Summary:

On Friday, 12/14/2018, David Wang was booked into the Collin County Jail on multiple drug offenses by the Allen Police Department. Wang made Collin County jailers aware of his medical conditions, which included needing daily medications and appointments for dialysis appointments. Considerations were made to address and accommodate Mr. Wang's medical conditions. On Sunday, 12/30/2018, in the early morning hours, Wang advised jailers that he needed medical assistance and wanted to go to the hospital due to being weak and short of breath. Wang advised that he was too weak to take his medication. Wang was transported to Baylor Scott and White Medical Center in McKinney by Collin County jailers. Wang remained in the custody of Collin County jailers while the hospital addressed the issues that he was experiencing. On Monday, 12/31/2018, Wang's heart stopped and he was resuscitated by medical staff. Wang remained in shock, but went into cardiac arrest once again and attempts were made to resuscitate him once again. The last effort to resuscitate him was unsuccessful. Wang was pronounced deceased at 3:11 PM by Dr. Raghu Krishnamurthy. Wang was transported to the Collin County Medical Examiner's Office for autopsy.

Dr. William Rohr of the Collin County Medial Examiner's Office preformed an autopsy on January 2, 2019, and ruled Wang died from complications of end stage renal disease due to hypertension and atherosclerosis. Manner of death was ruled Natural.
